Muster Perfume X CreoTodo

Brand Brief:

Muster is positioned as a modern fragrance brand built around identity and presence rather than just scent.

It shifts away from traditional perfume communication and focuses on how a person wants to be remembered.

The brand leans into emotion, memory, and subtle impact instead of product-heavy messaging.

It sits in the affordable luxury space, offering a premium feel without being out of reach.

The core audience is young, urban, and visually driven consumers.

Muster's tone stays minimal, controlled, and avoids being loud or over-explanatory.

Overall, the brand aims to create a quiet but lasting impression.

Social Media Suggestion:

Muster's social media should focus more on real, non-AI driven content that feels natural and relatable.

Instead of overly polished ads, the brand can include raw, everyday moments and community-based videos.

Cinematic reels can still be used, but balanced with more human and spontaneous content.

User-generated content and real reactions to the product should be encouraged.

The tone should remain minimal, with short captions and strong visuals leading the communication.

Influencer content should feel organic and not scripted or forced. The overall goal is to build a community-driven presence that people can connect with easily
